At the third agricultural show in the Bathurst district held at O'Connell Plains in 1861 the first protest against a judge's decision was made.

"A ploughman called Joseph Goodacre (ideal name!) wrote to the "Free Press" complaining that the judges of the ploughing section had erred badly, and claiming to be supported in this view by several people, including some committeemen. Oddly enough, Goodacre's protest was directed not against the awarding of the first prize, which he did not dispute, but at the awarding of the second prize." No action was taken.

FEATURE BREED –SUFFOLK

The Suffolk is a truly pure and unique breed that has been proven for over 200 years. The uniformity and hardiness of this breed maximizes the hybrid vigour of the progeny. The use of the Suffolk sire is preferred on maiden ewes and makes identification of cross bred lambs easier. The Suffolk breed is the most recognised breed worldwide. It is unsurpassed in eating quality and is considered the breed for the table. The black hard feet make sure that the Suffolk are built to go the distance. The early maturing lambs increase profits for prime lamb producers.

Adaptability: For all environments. The breed thrives in wet conditions with its hard black feet, having immunity to foot diseases. Suffolks are also outstanding in the dry areas where the high fertility rams work well even in hot summer conditions.

Parasites: Clean face, crutch and points minimising fly strike Hardy constitution gives high resistance to internal parasites

Lambing: Lambs are born with narrow heads and smooth shoulders and are very strong at birth minimizing lambing problems, loss of life and husbandry supervision.

Crossbreeds: Suffolk sires are ideal for maiden ewes, merinos and first cross ewes alike Produce the ideal lamb for todays market

Maturity: Under favourable conditions Suffolk lambs mature for market as early as 9 to 12 weeks or can be carried on to heavy weights.

Carcase: The Suffolk lamb carcass is full of choice LEAN meat. The Suffolk breed has a great record worldwide, including England, Europe, Canada and USA for comparison trials and carcass competitions.

Skins: A Survey of NSW abattoirs show Suffolk lamb skins are generally sold on mixed lots, the buyers not discriminating against the breed from which they originate

Wool: When mated with Merino or first cross ewes, Suffolk cross wool is comparable to the best cross bred wools. It is readily used in the woollen trade and is renowned for durability ideal for the home spinner
